

Sequence alignment of PCTAIRE proteins. The alignment shows multiple sequence tracks with color-coded regions of conservation. A red box highlights a specific region in the first few proteins. A blue box highlights another region in later proteins. A green box highlights a third region in the last few proteins. A yellow box highlights a fourth region in the final protein. The x-axis represents amino acid positions from 610 to 790.